Employee and customer protection solutions

Manage the flow of people and prevent infections

■ We are facing unique social challenges. The coronavirus is currently requiring everyone to radically rethink social distance and physical contact in everyday life. For the retail sector this also represents an enormous challenge in terms of protecting employees and customers appropriately. The current situation demands practical solutions that can be implemented quickly. We have identified Wanzl solutions that can help you to protect your employees and customers.

Mobile queuing posts

■ Our mobile queuing posts limit the risk of infection for customers and employees at information desks. Information signs remind customers to adhere to the required minimum and safety distances. In addition, similar to airport passport control areas, customer waiting zones can be cordoned off and clearly defined stopping points created. This allows customer flows to be managed in a targeted way, ensures a safe distance between customers and minimises the risk of infection.

Additional applications for mobile queuing posts:

› Queue management in the fruit and vegetable departments, fresh food counters and bakery shops.

Checkout barriers

■ Our mechanical or electronic checkout barriers are generally used to prevent theft at non-staffed checkouts. However, they can also be used effectively for creating the required social distance. The barriers are placed at the beginning of the check-out area for this purpose. The checkout conveyor belt is released for use by just one customer at a time. This ensures that there is only one customer at the checkout conveyor belt or area at a time.

MAINTAINING SOCIAL DISTANCE:
the checkout area and the checkout conveyor belt is only released for use by the next customer once the previous customer has finished their transaction

Partitions and protective screens

■ Wanzl partitions assist in separating spaces and areas effectively and safely, allowing customer flows to be managed and guided in sales areas in a targeted way.

In the checkout area, plexiglass protective screens are used for saliva and sneezing protection between customers and checkout staff. This effectively minimises the risk of droplet infection.

Customer counting

■ In order to minimise the risk of infection, the number of customers who may be in the store at any one time is limited in certain stores. Our video-based customer counting system with excellent counting accuracy provides precise data for this purpose. A screen at the entrance area informs customers about the number of shoppers in the store and whether access is currently possible. If the maximum permitted number of shoppers is in the store, access is only granted once a customer leaves the store.

BakeOff® 2.1 / 3.0

■ The fresh produce displays for baked goods, BakeOff 2.1 and BakeOff 3.0, are exemplary when it comes to hygiene. The baked goods are clearly visible but protected behind glass panes that provide protection from saliva and sneezing. In the 3.0 generation, the baked goods are even located behind completely closed hygiene flaps.

Product display

■ Some product ranges are currently in high demand. Place these on the end caps to encourage impulse buying. Our mobile product display holds heavy product ranges and can also be used as a sales combination with bargain tables or Euro pallets.

Sigma Present

■ Due to the increase in customer demand, many stores require more space on the sales floor. With the outdoor sales shelters such as Sigma and Alpha Present, parts of the product range can be placed in outdoor areas. This opens up valuable free space in the store that can be used for displaying the products that are more important at this time.

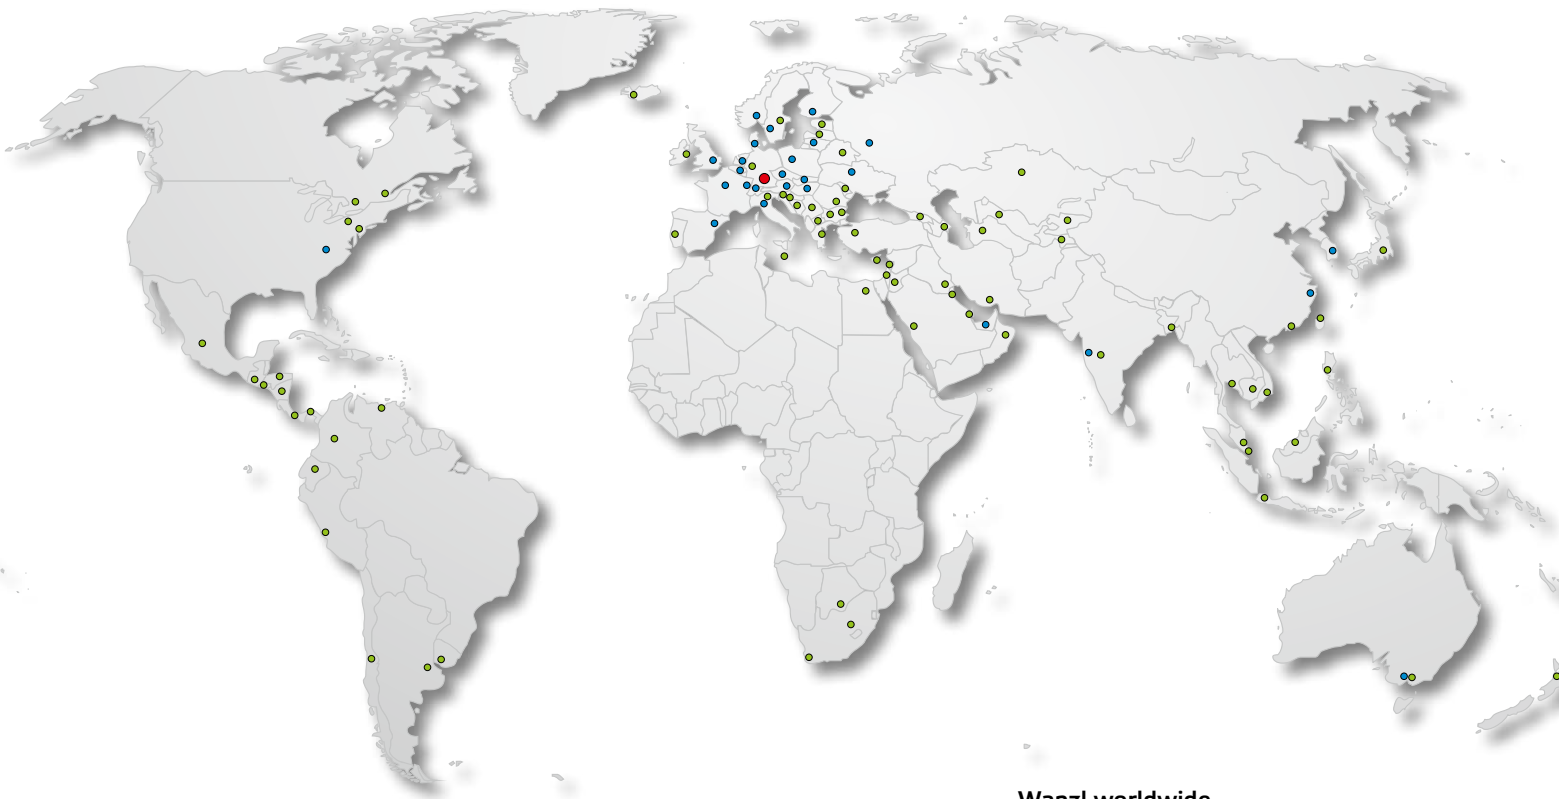

Staff facilities

■ Retail employees are facing particularly difficult challenges during the current crisis and the associated heavy workload. Ideally, staff facilities where employees can enjoy their time and find the necessary peace and quiet should be available. Wanzl Shop Solutions plans and implements attractive staff facilities that promote a good working atmosphere, encourage relaxation and show employees that they are appreciated.

We would also be pleased to plan new recreation and relaxation facilities for your employees!
